OUTRE OCCURRENCES.

FUNNY FREAKS AND PECULIAR HAPPENINGS.

Weekly Budget of Things Which Take Place Without Apparent Provocation. Incidents and Accidents Due to Planetary Influences.

Manager Ruddock of the Mendocino state hospital left for Santa Rosa Monday having been called to that city for the purpose of attending to the interest of clients in the suits of Brunner & Son, Eversole & Templeton, et al vs S. Marks. In addition to this legal business Mr. Ruddock and A. W. Foster, another manager of the state hospital, will consult regarding necessary improvements at the asylum. It is said that the big building is more or less of a firetrap; in fact it is dangerous to be safe in the neighborhood. It appears that the ventilators extend through the floor of the attic and up to the roof. The draft through the ventilators has carried upward all sorts of floating material and deposited it in the attic, so that a spark would be sufficient to start a conflagration that would endanger the life of every patient in the asylum. It is the intention of the managers to build a floor in the attic and extend the ventilators through the roof. Messrs Ruddock and Foster will also deliberate upon the putting in of telephones and electric lights.

A Short Hop Crop.

From present appearances it is safe to predict that the hop crop in this county will fall considerably below the average this year. The unusual north winds apparently exhausted the moisture in the soil, and thus forced the plants into bloom some weeks before their time. There naturally follows a diminution in the size of the blossoms, which will very materially reduce the tonnage. Altogether the year has not been propitious. In fact, from the most optimistic standpoint, 1897 is a year that will be long remembered as one of the most unsatisfactory in the history of Mendocino county. What it would have been had the boy orator been selected as the chief executive one dislikes to even contemplate.

Upset a Lamp.

The residence of Dr. W. N. Moore on Perkins street had a very narrow escape from destruction by fire Monday evening. The family was preparing to retire when a lamp was upset by Lawson Moore. The lamp rolled over toward the window, and in a few moments the lace curtains were ablaze. Mrs. Moore, the mother of Dr. Moore, picked the lamp up and threw it outdoors. The trail of coaloil left on the floor, however, fed the flames, and it required the united exertions of Mrs. Dr. Moore and her mother-in-law to subdue the fire. The ladies displayed remarkable coolness under the trying circumstances, and the blaze was extinguished with but nominal damage to record.

A Frightful Accident.

Word comes from Usal of a shocking accident to Pietro Martinelli, an Italian. With two other men, says The Advocate, he was on duty as night-watchman, looking after a fire in the woods, which threatened to destroy a lot of valuable timber and ties. He went to sleep with the end of a tie for a pillow. While in this position, a large tree burned through at the butt, and fell toward the sleeping man, knocking down another tree, the top of which struck the unfortunate man, splitting his head in two and crushing his body into pulp. His companions noticing the direction taken by the falling tree, tried to awaken him by calling out, but no avail.

Kicked to Death.

On Friday of last week Antone Christianson met with a horrible death on Signal ridge, near Navarro. It seems, says The Beacon, that while hauling a load of hay he slid off, accidently, behind the horses. They kicked him to death before he could extricate himself from his position, and from the appearance of his body when found, the horses must have continued kicking for some time after life was extinct. His face and chest were terribly mutilated. He was aged about 40 years, and had resided at Navarro for several years. Recently he had secured a ranch near Christine. He has a brother at Navarro.

Hard to Please.

Len Barnard of Fort Bragg is justly indignant. He carries the mail from Mendocino to Fort Bragg, but his contract does not require a Sunday service. However he always brought the mail up that day for accommodation. It now appears that complaint was made to the postoffice department by some thoughtless individual, who alleged that on Sundays the mail was occasionally late. Mr. Barnard replied to the complaint by asserting that in the future those who wished a Sunday service would be allowed the privilege of performing the duty themselves. And no one blames him.

Fire at Fort Bragg.

Fort Bragg narrowly escaped a fire Friday night last, which threatened the principal business portion of that town. At 11 o'clock flames were discovered in a small barn in the rear of the Salvation army barracks on Main street, the property of Solomon Marks. By the energetic work of scores of men with plenty of water the fire was confined to the small buildings of the alley way. After destroyed a barn belonging to R. M. Brown, the flames were got under control. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is nominal.

A Broken Arm.

The 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooley, who came down from Washington two weeks ago and are now living on the Brower place in Pomo, broke his arm Saturday last. The urchin was practicing the usual youthful athletics and fell from a fence on which he was performing. Dr. Hopkins was called in and the young fellow is getting along handsomely.

Fell From a Swing.

George Middleton, a 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Middleton, fell from a grapevine swing Tuesday last and broke his arm. Mrs. Middleton and family and Miss Feusier are encamped in Doolan canyon, and the young people were enjoying themselves playing games, when the accident occured. The injured member was promptly set and is rapidly healing.

Illicit Hunters.

A great many deer are now being slaughtered by the festive pleasure-seeker. The authorities would do well to exercise a little more precaution and severity in dealing with these illicit sportsmen. If this indiscriminate killing continues a few years will see the deer in this county as nearly extinct as is the buffalo.

Army Worm Appears.

The army worm has made its reappearance in Ukiah valley. Its first invasion occurred a month or so ago, and the ash trees were denuded of leaves. The worms then disappeared and were not seen again until last week, after the new growth of leaves had sprouted.

A Narrow Escape.

The northbound train had a very narrow escape from being wrecked Sunday last. A large rock had rolled onto the track just below Pieta, and the promptness of the engineer alone prevented what would no doubt have been a very disastrous accident.

A Bad Cut.

Edward Foster, a stepson of Blacksmith Klein, had his foot severely cut with broken glass Sunday last. For a time blood-poisoning was feared, but the wound is healing rapidly at present and no danger is anticipated.

Mendocino Should Advertise.

The Christian endeavorers of California have secured the Mechanics' pavilion as California headquarters and the reception room for the 30,000 delegates that will attend the international convention in San Francisco July 7-12. A space of eight feet has been allotted to Mendocino county in which to exhibit its resources. Those who have samples of the products of this county, or anything of interest that will advertise the county, should send them to Rev. L. F. McCray, who will decorate the space. Send them in not later than July 5th. Rev. McCray will, with the assistance of the business men, get up a pocket souvenir advertising the county and its resources.

Cloverdale Wool Sales.

According to a dispatch, wool sales were unusually active at Cloverdale Wednesday. The best price realized was 14 cents, an increase of 3½ cents over last spring. The wool men are in better spirits than for several years. The effect is already manifest at sheep ranches as rentals are on the advance all along the line and show indications of going to a living figure. If the wool men of this city had held off a week or so they might have been in a position to enjoy the raise.

A DUAL TRAGEDY

Two Men Killed Near Middletown.

DEATH OF GEORGE COLBY'S FATHER

A Lakeport Posse Meets With Resistance. A Fatal Accident on the Coast—Fred Kummerfeldt Falls Prom a Lofty Cliff Near Mendocino City and Is Instantly Killed.

A dual tragedy occurred at Middletown last evening, meagre details of which have just been received by THE PRESS.

It will be remembered that something over a year ago a man named George Colby was arrested on a charge of burglary and grand larceny.

Colby had established headquarters for stolen goods in the mountains near the mouth of Cache creek, and had filled the isolated cabin with the result of his thefts.

Colby was finally captured by the peace officers and was tried and convicted for the crime. After judgment had been pronounced by the court the prisoner dug through the walls of the Lakeport jail and escaped.

Futile efforts to locate the convict were made by the peace officers, but it was not until yesterday that any intimation of his whereabouts was obtained.

Himself and father were surrounded by a posse last evening near Middletown.

The officers ordered the two men to throw up their hands. Instead of obeying the command the elder Colby drew his rifle and fired, killing one of the posse. The posse then returned the fire and the elder Colby fell mortally wounded.

In the excitement of the occasion young Colby made his escape, and at this writing is being pursued by Sheriff Pardee and deputies.

More trouble is anticipated, as Colby has declared his intention of fighting till the death.

Dashed to Death.

A. H. Burger arrived in this city this morning with the body of Fred Kummerfeldt of Sacramento, who fell from a cliff at the mouth of Russian gulch, two miles north of Mendocino city, yesterday, and was instantly killed. The deceased and Mr. Burger were fishing and hunting for abalones on the beach. Mr. Kummerfeldt climbed a rocky promontory and fell from the summit, a distance of about thirty feet. He landed on his head and his skull was frightfully crushed. Mr. Burger reached the side of the deceased a few moments after the fall, but life was then practically extinct. The deceased was the senior member of the firm of Kummerfeldt & Schmidt, 710 I street, Sacramento, dealers in fuel. He was aged 51 years and was in this county on his summer vacation. The body will be shipped to the family in Sacramento today. The deceased leaves a wife and son.

This will end her term of school vacation this summer. Miss Elma has been enjoying a very pleasant time among her relatives and friends in this city. Miss Elma thought that she would prefer a term of life away from home, but she is once more glad to be welcomed by friends and relatives to dear old home, sweet home. L. I. F.

The County Wins.

The case of L. L. Harbert vs. Mendocino county, which was an action to test the validity of the fee bill of 1895, has been decided by Judge Mannon in favor of the county. The question at issue was as to whether fees of constables should be charged under the old law of 1870, or whether the fee bill of 1895, as applied to fees of con stables, is constitutional. The decision supports the latter theory, which isin line with the action of the Board of Supervisors.

Marks Wins.

The case of Evan's & Orr vs. S. Marks came up in the superior court at Santa Rosa yesterday. The defendant was given judgment, the court holding that millwork was not properly subject to a mechanics' lien.

The annual meeting of the hop-growers' association will be held at the office of R. McGarvey July 3rd at 2 p. m.

A SOLDIER AT ELEVEN

FOLLOWS THE FLAG FROM BULL RUN TO APPOMATTOX.

George Marshall of Fort Bragg Enlists at Eleven Years of Age and Fights Under Grant Until the Surrender of General Lee—An Interesting Military Career.

Missionary Ridge Post, G. A. R., of Fort Bragg claims as a member the youngest soldier in the Union army during the war of the rebellion. His name is George Marshall, and he is not yet 48 years of age. Mr. Marshall settled in this county in 1876, and recently gave the following interview to a representative of The Beacon of Mendocino:

"I was born in New York city September 16, 1849, and enlisted in Company I, 2nd N. Y. Vol., heavy artillery, as a private, on the 4th day of July, 1862, in the City of New York, and was honorably discharged on June 5, 1865, having served within a month of three years. My regiment was stationed in the forts in and around Washington, and when McClellan retreated from the Peninsula we were sent down to Manassas Junction and had our first smell of gunpowder in the second battle of Bull Run, after which we retreated to Washington.

"After Grant took command we were sent down to the front and took part in the battle of the Wilderness, and I was in all of Grant's battles from then until Lee surrendered: Cold Harbor, North Ann, South Ann, Petersburg, Hatcher Run, Deep Bottom. We saw General Grant when he passed through the lines to see General Lee at the time of the surrender. My regiment was in the 1st Brigade, 1st Division, 2nd Corps. The present General Miles was our division commander, General Barlow of New York was our brigade commander, and General Humphreys was our corps commander.

"I was in the grand review at Washington, and heard many people standing on the sidewalk say: "Just look at that boy with a gun on his shoulder;" as I was still at that time a small boy, a little over 15 years of age. We were sent to New York a few days after the review, where I was honorably discharged.

"Staying at home only a short time, and wanting to come to California, I enlisted at Philadelphia as bugler on the 23d day of February, 1866, in the 1st United States cavalry, Troop L, and was sent to go California to relieve the California volunteers on frontier duty. Was sent to Nevada where we saw some Indian fighting. Was with General Crook part of one summer in the Stine mountains country chastising the Piute Indians, and was also on a number of scouting parties escorting immigrants to and from California and Montana. I was honorably discharged at Angel Island, San Francisco, February 23, 1869, having served another three years for Uncle Sam, making six years' service lacking a month. I had saved up nearly $500 in money, besides my transportation back to Philadelphia."

An Earthquake Sunday.

An earthquake was felt throughout California as for north as Sacramento and south to Templeton, in the northern part of San Luis Obispo county. Reports indicate that the center of the sesmic disturbance was in the vicinity of Hollister, in San Benito county. Within a radius of forty miles of Hollister the shocks were sufficiently violent to result in considerable damage to windows and plastering. The direction of the vibrations varied in different places, but they are generally reported as being from north to south. Reports agree that the earthquake was perhaps the severest experienced since the memorable one of 1868, when much property was destroyed in Califyrnia. In nearly all of the sections affected the weather conditions were cloudy and sultry. A section of adobe wall in a Mission Church in Monterey tumbled in on the congregation and a panic almost resulted. Congregations were at worship in various towns when the shock occurred and in some churches panies were avoided by the cool-headedness of the ministers.

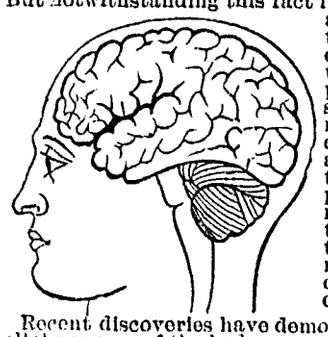
MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.



Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All secondary nervous illness, confusion, pressure, insomnia, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

Do You Want to Stop Drinking?

Inquired a young gentleman of a friend who had long been addicted to the liquor habit. "I certainly do," replied his friend. "Why do you ask?" "Because, if you do why don't you stop?" "That's easier said than done," responded the other. "I have tried time and again, but it's no go. I can't withstand the tempation. It's utterly impossible for me to resist. I don't possess the will power you did when you quit." "There was no exhibition of will power on my part," replied the other. "I found it as useless as yourself to resist the temptation; but I wanted to stop, so I experimented with the Fittz Alcohol Cure. It's easy to take: it builds up the system, and after the first five days the desire all leaves you. Consult Dr. G. W. Stout."
